PA NEWC OBSERVES

Reading of the speed records being broken in Florida when a speed of more than 206 miles an hour was made by an auto racer, Walter Kirker and others on the Y. M. C. A. staff did a little figuring and came to the conclusion that if that auto was in Lawrence county it would take just two minutes to go from the public square in this city to Westminster college at New Wilmington. Wouldn't this be a bonanza for the "hitch hikers"
from the school?

President Calvin Coolidge has just signed the appropriation bill providing funds for erection of new public buildings and postoffices. It is announced from Washington. New Castle's new postoffice is provided for in that appropriation, but whether it will be erected within the coming year or so or delayed until later in the building program which runs over a period of five years, is another matter. New Castle Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations should get into this matter at once and see what chance there is of speeding up work in New Castle.
There is no question but that the need for a larger postoffice is as great in New Castle as any city in the country.

Even though the night is bitter cold as was last night, the summoning of firemen to any downtown location will quickly bring out a large crowd of curious spectators. An alarm about 10 o'clock last night brought three or four companies racing to North Mercer street a block or so from The News office and within a few minutes a crowd of several hundred persons were flocking toward the scene. The blaze did not amount to anything, being a flue burning out. But the crowd had to make the trip all the way to the scene and be satisfied.

On a number of occasions it has been suggested to Pa Newc that it would be a good thing to change the name of some of the outlying territories around New Castle. For instance some one has suggested that the name of "Neshannock Heights" or something of that nature.

At Lancaster recently a banquet was enjoyed at which all of the products used were home community products. New Castle and Lawrence county could do that city one better.
Not only could we have a banquet with home products but here we make the tin and the cans in which the food is preserved from the time that it is taken from the gardens. All New Castle needs to complete the cycle is a canning factory.

Contractors who have the state award for construction of the two mile stretch of concrete road from East Brook towards Volant are evidently certain that spring is coming.
Work has been started on the grading work in preparation for changing the route of the road for a distance.

Bessemer and Plaingrove four year high schools and Wampum three year high school are to be congratulated on their work in winning the championships in the county schools in the series of literary contests just ended while the public at large does not give the attention to school literary contests that is accorded athletic contests, nevertheless Pa Newc is inclined to believe that the training secured in these literary clashes really means more to participants in later years than athletics. Pa Newc has been in both and speaks from experience.

There are headwaiters and head-waiters but the prince of them all at The Castleton the other day bemoaned the absence of the couples he used to serve under the dim, rose colored lights down south. The northern men and women are a puzzle to the waiter for they are always in a hurry. Frantically they rush through each course.

Work was started Friday on the company started a crew on the cut just east of the village of East Brook.

A steam shovel is being moved to

H. E. Golder, general manager of

Butler Man Is Killed In Crash At Portersville

William Noblet, 30, Victim As Auto Crashes Into Head-
wall Of Culvert

ACCIDENT OCCURS DURING MORNING

Family Was Preparing To Move From Butler To Ellwood City

William Noblet, aged 30, of Butler, was instantly killed about eight o'clock this morning this side of Portersville,
and his brother-in-law, Mr.
Beecham, of Ellwood City, was slightly injured when the automobile which the former was driving toward Butler crashed into a culvert head-wall.

They were en route to Butler from Ellwood City, the Noblet family planning to move today from Butler to Ellwood City. Mr. Noblet was driving the machine when about a mile this side of Portersville and near where the road leaves the Butler highway for McConnell's Mills, as the machine was going down a hill
Mr. Noblet drove around another car en route in the same direction.

Car Careens

As he went around the right-hand side of the other car he apparently lost control of his machine. It swung back and forward from one side to the other of the road, gaining momentum and becoming more unmanageable all the time, until finally it crashed into the headwall.

Mr. Noblet was hurled up through the top of the machine as the car, a Chevrolet sedan, crashed into the wall. The top of his head was torn off and he was instantly killed. His companion suffered slight cuts and bruises but was not seriously injured.
A doctor was called to the scene of the accident and Mr. Noblet pronounced dead. The coroner of Butler county was then called and assumed charge of the body.

At the moment of the death of Mr.
Noblet a moving van was in front of his Butler residence and a load of moving being placed on it for transportation to Ellwood City.

Mr. Noblet is survived by a wife and two small children.

Shenango House Is Destroyed By Fire Early Today

All Of Guests Escape With-

$250,000

SEVERAL STORES ARE ALSO RUINED

Smouldering Walls Remain
To Mark One Of Oldest Sharon Structures

(International News Service)
SHARON, Pa., Feb. 25.—

Loss approximating $250,000
was caused here early today with the destruction by fire of the Shenango House block, a four-story brick structure, and one of the oldest buildings in the city.

The loss includes damage to six storerooms in the building, the Shenango Stationery
Shoppe, Minette Shoppe,
Maxwell store, Sweetland confectionery, Flowers real estate office and the King
Brothers barber shop.

Only the walls were standing at dawn, mute testimony to the losing battle waged by members of the Sharon and Farrell fire departments.
The fire started about 3:45 a. m. in the basement of the building, from an undetermined source.

Guests Flee

Twenty-five guests in the hotel were awakened by police officers and were forced to flee, some in scanty attire. The proprietor of the hotel, W. Berer, members of his family and hotel employees, also escaped uninjured.

The only person unaccounted for is Miss Anna Paulio, a waitress, who is believed to have gone to Pittsburgh
last night to spend the week-end.

Owned By Berer

The building was owned by Thomas Berer of Cleveland, O., former proprietor of the hotel, and now a law student at Western Reserve University.

The fire was discovered by Nick Avron, hotel janitor, who was almost suffocated before he escaped from the basement and gave the alarm.

Arrest Suspect For Misconduct Towards Women

Police Believe Cause Of Complaints On North Hill Is In Custody

Carl Altman, aged 31, resident of Meyer avenue, is in the city jail, facing charges of being the man who for the past two or three months, has been stopping young women and school girls, principally the latter, and making indecent exposure, also inciting proposals to these girls, according to the police.

He was taken into custody Friday afternoon about 4 o'clock by Captain J. Ed Elder, Detective John Young and Officer Charles Longstreth after an exciting pursuit.

On being taken to the police station, and being confronted by individuals who had come in contact with him in his recent peculiar actions, he finally admitted according to the police that he was the man wanted. His capture was due to a persistent and well organized effort on the part of the police of this city during the past few weeks.

The authorities suspect also that he is the man who seized Helen Spiker, fourteen year old school girl in the Pleasant Valley district, a few days ago, and this afternoon, County Detective William Fleming and assisting city officers will take him to the Spiker home for the purpose of establishing whether or not he is the man wanted.

He will face charges before a local magistrate made by Chief of Police C. C. Horner. If it is found that he is the man in the Spiker case, still more serious charges will be made against him by County Detective Fleming.

It is believed, the police state, that the capture of Mr. Altman, will result in eliminating this type of complaint from people of the Highland district, police reporting he has been identified by four women.

One of the girls who identified him was responsible for his speedy capture. She had secured the license number and through that it was determined that he was employed in the construction of the new junior high school, by Officer Longstreth and Captain Elder.

Friday afternoon a car other than the police car was secured. Two of the young woman who had seen him, accompanied the officers to the new junior high school, for the purpose of identification.

The officers and girls never arrived there, for as they were enroute north on Highland avenue near the Highland school, one of the girls in the police machine recognized his machine as it went in the opposite direction also recognized Altman as the man being sought.

The police car was turned quickly and followed the Altman car to the West Side near Sankey street, where Altman was overtaken and arrested. After being questioned for some time by the police, he finally admitted to the several charges, his statement agreeing with those of those making the complaints, even to time and place.

He has been unable, so far, the police state to give any reason for his strange actions. His method in this city, was to drive up ahead of a school girl or a woman, make a pretense of fixing his machine, then as the girl or young woman came up with him he would make insulting remarks.

Italian Steamer Collides With Russian Naval Training Vessel Near England

(International News Service.) LONDON, Feb. 25.—The fate of the Italian steamer Alcantara was still obscure today following its collision with the Russian schooner Tovaritch in a fog in the Straits of Dover last night.

The Arcos Steamship Company received a radio message from the captain of the Tovaritch stating that the vessel was only crippled and that he was proceeding to Southampton, where he is expected this evening.

The coast guard at Dover assumes that the Alcantara went down with all hands, though a search for survivors is continuing. One man was picked up by the P. and O. liner Mongolia, but died almost immediately. It is feared that 14 others were drowned.

The Tovaritch is a four-masted sailing barge used as a cadet training ship and carrying about a hundred naval students.

menter in motive power. His backer at Selfridge field in conversations with army engineers is D. Barr Peat, also of Pittsburgh, manager of the Bettis field airport there.

Hendershot is credited with several successful electrical inventions, two of which he has sold to the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company.

He exhibited his model several weeks ago to friends. A layman pronounced it:

"Something like an earth induction motor and the nearest thing to perpetual motion. It's sort of a magnet arrangement which in a general way would pull on the rear of an airplane and make it fly. It is supposed to run on an electro-magnetic principle applied to the rotation of the earth on its axis."

At that time Hendershot obtained 1,800 revolutions a minute from the model. This was said to have been duplicated at Selfridge field yesterday with Lindbergh and Lanphier watching the motor run.

Hendershot and Peat have been in the neighborhood of Detroit for about three weeks, making their headquarters at Selfridge field, where they have been in conference with army engineers.

Lindbergh Interested.

Whether Lindbergh's visit at this time had been pre-arranged with the inventor has not been determined but the inventor has not been determined but the "lone eagle" was said to be actively interested in the Hendershot invention.

His purpose is hopping off this morning for the New York air field, it was said, to discuss the invention with officials of the Guggenheim foundation.

No mention of capitalization of the Hendershot invention has appeared. It is considered likely Ford engineers have been advised of Hendershot's progress, but whether Edsel Ford, who has conferred with Lindbergh in the last few days, has discussed the motor model with him was not announced.

Henry Ford's trip to Florida to visit Thomas Edison came in for speculation in connection with the reports on the invention.

The importance of a fuelless motor in all ramifications of the industry at once suggested itself to persons who discussed the Hendershot model.

SIX BANDIT'S GET $133,000 IN CASH IN TRAIN HOLD-UP

car employees along the right of way, set a powerful dynamite charge which blew to pieces the end of an express car and after a running gun battle with police escaped with a large sum in cash.

When the blast roared two of the bandits dashed into the wrecked car, seized bags of registered mail, containing payrolls for large industrial concerns in Northern Indiana, and tossed them through the smoke to the companions who waited alongside in a high powered motor car.

Noise of the explosion which was heard for miles brought police to the scene as the last sack was hurled into the roaring automobile.

Hundreds of motorists were in the path of the many bullets fired by police and bandits.

The blast of dynamite which almost wrecked the train, was heard for miles about.

Payroll Train

The train known as the "payroll train" because it carried the weekly payroll money for scores of industrial iron and coal plants in the vicinity of Northern Indiana, was unusually heavily loaded today. Officials stated.

Squads of police from a dozen cities rushed to the district and blocked all roads leading away from the scene.

The bandit car, a brilliant yellow, sped toward Blue Island, Ill., after the robbery.

Meager reports did not state the damage to the train except to say "heavy". It was not known whether or not guards and express clerks were attacked or injured.

IMPROVEMENTS NOT YET DECIDED UPON

Frank Miller, city engineer, stated today that as yet city councilmen have not definitely decided on the improvements which are to be launched when spring arrives.

PA NEW OBSERVES

as if their lives depended on finishing the dinner in half an hour. But the southern diners, the waiter mused, know how to eat. Slowly and leisurely and with great reverence for the work of the chef, they go through the meal, sometimes taking as much as one and one half hours to eat a four course dinner.

Another dithyramb should be launched against those careless fellows who persist in starting when the traffic lights are on amber. And, if they are started they seem especially delighted in whooping it up much to the bewilderment of the already added pedestrian who is standing in the middle of the crossing. Even street car operators are guilty of the practice. Safety demands that it should be stopped.

Ather motorists should organize a club consisting of the men and women who start their engines, pull out on to the middle of the street and then stall. Many are the ones who do this and the practice is dangerous. One should always warm up his engine before attempting to enter the streams of traffic.

Although they cannot speak definitely, yet officials of the First National Bank of Lawrence County are convinced that they will be in their new building by May 16. Even now the new bank seems to be well on its way to completion and if one stands on the opposite corner and look at the facade he will be convinced that the new structure will be a great addition to the main street of the city.

And word comes to us from one of the men on the Jameson Memorial hospital job that stone masons have practically finished their work and it will be but a matter of a few days until bricklayers start to finish the outside of the building.

Motorists who were on the road at 11 o'clock last night were doubtless surprised when they ran into a miniature snow cyclone. One of the friends of this column while reporting the phenomenon says that the snow was so thick that he had to pull up to the side of the road and wait until it was over.

Now that convention days, ways and ballots are being discussed, the following little tabulation as to the number of ballots that were required for presidential nominations in Republican and Democratic conventions since the first Republican convention in 1856 may prove of interest, giving in order the Republican and Democratic choices and the ballot on which selection was made:

1856—Fremont on first; Buchanan on 17th.

1860—Lincoln on third; Breckenridge on first; Douglas on 59th.

1864—Lincoln on first; McClellan on first.

1868—Grant on first; Seymour on 22nd.

1872—Grant on first; Greeley on first.

1876—Hayes on seventh; Tilden on second.

1880—Garfield on 36th; Hancock on second.

1884—Blaine on fourth; Cleveland on second.

1888—Harrison on eighth; Cleveland on first.

1892—Harrison on first; Cleveland on first.

1896—McKinley on first; Bryan on fifth.

1900—McKinley on first; Bryan on first.

1904—Roosevelt on first; Parker on first.

1908—Taft on first; Bryan on first.

1912—Taft on first; Wilson on 46th.

1916—Hughes on third; Wilson on first.

1920—Harding on tenth; Cox on 44th.

1924—Coolidge on first; Davis on 103rd.

SEVERAL NEW MEN ADDED TO FORCE

Several new men have been added to the department of street employees during the past few weeks as weather conditions have played havoc with streets. As soon as a thaw comes the bottom drops out of the streets requiring extra work from the force. Seldom during January and February, it is stated, has such a condition of thaws existed.

"TORCH" SLAYER BAFFLES POLICE IN RIGID SEARCH

nied that suspicion centered upon any individual.

"If we know who killed Margaret Brown we would go and get him," said Inspector Carey.

Search Continues

These denials, however, did not jibe with the eagerness with which the police pounced upon any scrap of information concerning the man known as "Doctor," who knew Miss Brown well, used to meet her in Central Park when she was governess of a Park avenue family, frequently took her for automobile rides and who cannot be found now.

The mysterious "Doctor" was being sought on all sides today. He is believed to be the key to the crime. This man had an office in New Jersey, the police were told, or else he was employed in some hospital or sanitarium in the northern part of New Jersey.

A woman, whose name is withheld, informed the authorities she knew the "Doctor" and Miss Brown and that she had seen them at road houses and amusement places in New Jersey.

The authorities, meanwhile, refused to make public the complete text of the confession letter mailed by the slayer to the police of Bernardsville, N. J. Two unpublished paragraphs of the letter are said to hold the identity of the "Doctor."

"I don't think it wise to make public the full contents of the letter at this time," said Prosecutor Bergen. "When we give out the letter in full the man who wrote it will be under arrest."

Bergen admitted that two paragraphs of the communication were being withheld.

Slayer Is Desperate

The fact that the slayer had studied medicine was mentioned by the murderer in his confession note he sent to the police along with the two $1,000 bonds and $500 bill taken from the woman he had slain.

It was learned today for the first time that the police have received information that a blue sedan observed near the scene of the slaying bore a New York license, beginning T-5. Examination of motor vehicle records was proceeding.

An examination of Miss Brown's trunk yielded no clues and a survey of dives in New York and in Newark, N. J., "Swamp," or underworld district, failed to show any trace of the slayer. His letter was postmarked Newark and he told the police that he was going to drive somewhere to hell, I suppose," and indicated that he would kill himself before he submitted to capture.

Follow New Clue

Captain Lamb suddenly left Somerville this morning for North Arlington, a suburb of Newark, where it was reported a suspect is hiding. Prosecutor Bergen left Bound Brook for North Arlington at the same time, indicating an arrest might be near.

START CONSTRUCTION OF EAST BROOK ROAD

a month a detour will be established.

Two Detour Routes.

Two different routes are available for detour. It is likely that the highway department will choose one leading north from the old macadam just west of East Brook and joining the East Brook-Volant road either just at the end of the construction at the Frank Jordan farm or at the next junction just north of the Will Walton farm.

Another available route of detour for those going towards Leesburg would be out the Harlansburg road to the state road and then north on the state road past the East Brook U. P. church, joining the old location just beyond the church. This route is improved or ashed with the exception of about a half mile south of the church.

COLLEGE DEBATERS LAUNCH SEASON

Open Forum Debate Plan Used By Westminster And Wash-Jeff

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 25.—Westminster opened its varsity debate season here last night by winning an audience decision over representatives of Washington and Jefferson College on the question, Resolved: That American private investments in foreign countries should not be protected by the United States government.

Although there is no decision under the open forum plan of debate, a vote of the audience taken both before and after the word battle is taken to determine the opinion and change of opinion of those who listen to the orators. Under this plan, the affirmative side, upheld by Washington and Jefferson speakers, lost 12 adherents; and the negative side, supported by Westminster, gained five followers. The debate goes down in the records as a no decision contest.

G. P. Hebel of W. & J. opened the debate for the affirmative side by explaining the subject and presenting the first constructive arguments for the Washington and Jefferson team. Other speakers on the Presidents team included F. S. Marino and P. Columbus.

Westminster was represented by Samuel Colman of Philadelphia, Elden Williams of Carnegie, and Howard Hamer of Erie. Constructive speeches were 10 minutes in length, and rebuttal speeches were five minutes long.

Following the debate, while audience decision were being collected and counted, P. Columbus of W. & J. read into the microphone comments on the arguments presented by both sides and the comparative value of points stressed. Dr. C. A. Dawson, head of the English department, was chairman.

Income Tax Returns Must Be Filed Soon

Revenue Bureau Is Maintaining Offices In Chamber Of Commerce Rooms

Final day for the filing of income tax returns this year will be March 15, the same as in former years. As the time is getting short, those residents of Lawrence county, who are required to fill such a return and have not yet done so, are urged to do so as soon as possible and avoid the last minute rush.

The internal revenue department is maintaining a special office for the accommodation of such persons, in the directors room of the Chamber of Commerce suite of offices in the Greer Building on North Mercer street. This room is number 312 and is located on the second floor of the building and to the rear.

There has apparently been a mistaken idea, according to Marion S. Woods, deputy of the internal revenue department in charge of the office, that it is located in the Centennial Building, corner of Mill and Washington street, and this has occasioned some annoyance to those desiring to make reports.

Deputy Woods will be at the office all the time during business hours and will be assisted by Deputy McBride, when the latter is not engaged in other parts of the county.

Wampum Troop Is Host To Council

Lawrence County Council Is Honored By Wampum Boy Scouts

A large number of the members of the Lawrence County Council, Boy Scouts of America, journeyed to Wampum where a dinner was being held in their honor by the members of the Wampum Boy Scout troop 1, Friday evening. The dinner was held at the First Presbyterian church at Wampum.

After the dinner, the Scouts of the troop presented a splendid program that had been arranged especially for this meeting. Dr. W. C. Wallace, Louis B. Round and J. Lee Calahan, Scout Executive represented the Scouts of New Castle and New Wilmington by addressing those present. Dr. H. S. Gold represented the Ellwood City Scouts in the same manner. This meeting was in the form of a Parents and Scouts Banquet with the members of the Council as special guests. All details were carried out by the Scouts themselves without assistance from any one. Scout George Hildebrand, Senior Patrol leader of the Wampum troop 1, acted in the capacity of toastmaster. The members of the troop wish to thank all who took part in making this event a success, especially the ladies who prepared the dinner and the sisters of the Scouts who served as waitresses.

"WHAT'S YOUR HURRY?"

AUTOMOBILE and other street accidents have become so numerous in many cities that campaigns have been commenced to teach the public, pedestrians as well as drivers of vehicles, the wisdom of exercising care on the public streets.

Investigations of accidents on the streets have developed that a large per cent of them is avoidable; that they are the result of carelessness on the part of the driver of the vehicle or the pedestrian who is the worst sufferer when a collision occurs.

Men and women rush across the streets or between street cars and vehicles, apparently without any thought of the dangers they race in doing so. Many persons can be seen leaving a street car at the rear door and crossing the street behind the car, thereby running the risk of being struck by a car passing on the "blind" side.

Automobile drivers are not blameless in the matter. Many of them take chances in rushing across a street ahead of a street car or another automobile, all for the evident purpose of saving a few seconds, as if the saving of time justified them in running the risk of being struck.

Drivers of vehicles are blamed for many more accidents than should be charged to them. Pedestrians have a responsibility which they should not attempt to evade. It is much easier for the individual to wait a few seconds than it is for the driver of an automobile to stop to prevent striking a person who has rushed into the middle of the street in thoughtless haste.

Every person, driver or pedestrian, who uses the streets has it in his power to aid in making the streets safe for all.

HONOR FOR LINDY'S MOTHER

OFFICERS of the National Education Association have arranged to present to Mrs. Evangeline L. Lindbergh a gold emblem and life membership at their gatherings which opens in Boston on March 1. The inscription on the emblem will say it was presented in recognition of her characteristics of modesty and idealism and her outstanding work as a teacher.

But there is another reason. The son she bore, in his display of courage and spirit of American adventure, has stirred the emotions and appealed to the imagination of the world as no other man in any nation has been able to do for generations. The American nation loves and admires him, so do Europe and the countries to the South he visited recently. And, best of all, this boyish world hero has shown no deterioration during the months he has been receiving the plaudits of rulers and commoners in many lands.

To the mother of this outstanding American the National Education Association is offering its special distinctions.

This is one time when the American mother is called to her place alongside the man who is loved by millions in many lands.

A HOME-GROWN BANQUET

CELEBRATING its claimed reputation as the Garden Spot of the nation, Lancaster recently served a banquet to 600 diners with food grown wholly in that county.

The idea is an interesting one that other communities may try to emulate. It would be an interesting one for Lawrence county. At the same time, it is well to remember that the food question is something more than a problem of production. Where were those crops during the interval between harvest and consumption? The surplus had to be saved against the "lean" seasons.

Preservation and distribution are essential functions in which others beyond the county boundaries co-operated. Modern prosperity is the result of a commercial integration to which every region contributes and in which every region participates.

LOWER AIR MAIL RATES

THERE is a proposal before congress to reduce the air mail rate for first class matter to five cents an ounce. The present rate is four times that much.

Such reduction would be a fine thing. The rate now is too high to interest the general public. It is only an occasional letter that is important enough to justify the 10 or 20 cents it costs to send it by airplane. Thus the public gains little, business makes only moderate use of the air mail, and there is not enough patronage to develop that branch of the postal service as it should be developed.

Cheaper rates would doubtless operate in the air, as they always have done by land and water, to boost patronage, stimulate mail business and pay for expansion of the service. It would be a great benefit to aviation as well as a great public convenience.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:40. Sun rises tomorrow 5:48.

Where there's smoke, there is generally a little bit of fire. And this doesn't mean just the kind of fires that firemen put out. The best way to do is to always be right, then you'll never be smoked out.

Some sneak thief stole two three hundred pound manhole covers in Cleveland. He must be going into weight lifting business, when he took them. Can't see as how they would be good for much else.

We see where bridge players have been raided in a New York club. The police say they were gambling. They contend they were playing for relaxation and not as gamblers. It does make a difference where you're playing some times, but that doesn't change the game.

A New York Turf woman has purchased the contract papers on a leading rider of the Tin Juana track for $40,000. Just think of it, forty thousand dollars for a boy weighing 95 pounds, to ride her horses. And then they say there is no money in following the horses.

The Paris-London air fare has been cut, while the fare on French air lines from Paris to the Mediterranean have been cut to a point below that charged on express train. It looks bad for the passenger trains, between the competition offered by automobiles and airplanes.

England is now consuming nearly six billion eggs a year. Just imagine that if you can and then realize why the lowly hen is really a power in this world. It reminds one of the story of the "goose" that laid the golden egg. Only this is a hen.

Germany, as a republic, has discovered the fact that it costs much less for the people to govern themselves, than it did to let the Kaiser do it for them. It's not very likely that royalty will ever again have the opportunity of showing the thrifty Germans how to govern the world.

Radio reception is so well thought of in Fairfield, Iowa, that the city council has passed an ordinance imposing a thirty day sentence upon any one found guilty of knowingly causing interference. That council has a lot of nerve and evidently does not fear the result of anything that it broadcasts. Maybe they don't have politics out there.

Senator E. D. Smith of South Carolina said a monthful when he remarked that the most insidious monopoly of the ether is that of jazz music. It does seem a shame to use up so much of the air in dispensing that which any music box can give out. It would be better for the rising generation, if they were given something with a more nerve quieting tendency.

Clothes according to the British commissioner of the Gilbert and Ellice Islands in the South Pacific have been inimical both to cleanliness and morality among the natives there. Wonder if that's the reason they are becoming so scarce in this climate.

There is in Lithuania, a man 106 years of age, who has been a maker of images practically all his life. Although without instruction in the art, his work is considered remarkably fine. It might, at least be said of him, that experience has been his best teacher. Most of us would probably do very good work after being at it nearly a century.

Pittsburgh reports an epidemic of child abandonment in that city in the past week. Fifteen bits of humanity have been placed at the doorstep of public charity. There are probably many reasons for this condition, but it's hard to understand just how they justify an act of this kind.

Fourteen years is the age limit set in the District of Columbia for the obtaining of a license to operate an automobile. That's pretty young to begin operating a speed wagon, when it is considered that automobiles are today the greatest cause of accidents in this country. A few more years before being granted a license would mean better drivers and safer roads.

Jilted by the girl, he thought he loved, a New Yorker, tried to end it all on three different occasions by jumping in front of subway trains. He was rescued every time and after the third attempt was removed to jail where they don't have subway trains. Seems as though it might have been better if they had let him alone, if he was so silly about the girl.

Too many laws, says an assistant United States district attorney, are the cause of the present day failure of the people to obey the statutes. Only too true. Often in obeying one law you find yourself disobeying another. A vacation from law-making might help us become law-abiding.

Note to the composing room: Leave standing the sub-head "Defense Will Plead Insanity."

It isn't hard to "develop" the native of a backward country. Just put pants on him and hand him a spade.

The most hopeless hick is the smart guy who thinks his immediate vicinity, rural or urban, has a monopoly of virtue and brains.

Happy thought. So much of a charity fund goes to pay overhead; why not give the office jobs to those who need charity?

If you think you hate mankind, it's because you hate yourself for having earned mankind's bad opinion.

A hick town is a place where a preacher can't hold a job unless he's humble enough to please the local rich man.

In almost every organization there is an enthusiast whose mouth opens a rosy future while somebody else does the work.

Even the hard-boiled cynic does good. He inspires industry in those who might be leeches if he were an easy mark.

Americanism: "Hard knocks made me a success; I'm going to make things easier for my boy."

Sufficient proof that hell isn't inhabited by Americans. Nobody brags about how wonderful the place is.

If all the people were precisely like the reformers, are you quite sure you would like the world better?

What to do? If you buy a car today, some manufacturer is sure to make another 98-cent cut tomorrow.

A Scot isn't stingy. He just encourages that idea so he can get $5 each for the jokes he writes about it.

We can't all be superior. Somebody must build the jails for the clever boys who think one a boob to work.

The objection to democracy is that stealing from a fund doesn't seem as dishonest as stealing from an individual.

They're something to adore. When they're three years old or four. Would those charms could long survive. Which are theirs when they are five.

But they have such lovely tricks. When they're journey on to six. Then their little legs grow stout. And those two front teeth come out.

Seven and eight and nine they stage. What is called the awkward age. After that, through many a year. All their graces re-appear.

Loveliest creatures on life's stage— Little girls—at any age! (Copyright, 1928, Edgar A. Guest) fare better, yet there wouldn't be much difference in the matter of attire.

We read where a passing train struck a large police dog, sent it hurtling through the air. The dog's body landed on the head of the crossing watchman and fractured his skull. Looks as if dogs should be barred from using the railroad crossings.

A woman who had foolishly drawn $9,000 from the bank and told a man about it was dragged, soaked with gasoline and burned alive.

In Pittsburgh, a man and woman danced 60 hours and 54 minutes without stopping.

Over the Imperial Valley in California a Zenith-Albatross plane was trying to stay up in the air longer than any plane had ever stayed.

Bert Hinkler, Australia's "Lone Eagle," won five air records in a 15-day flight from England to Australia.

He has the one-man flight distance record, the first non-stop London to Rome flight, the record for speed from England to India and from England to Australia.

He spent $250 for gasoline, half the price of a first-class passage by steamer.

Secretary Hoover tells Senator Borah he believes in keeping the Eighteenth Amendment. A president is bound by his oath to sincere enforcement of laws enacted thereunder.

Senator Reed of Missouri also questioned about prohibition, says the Democratic party has more important things to think about.

Wall Street hasn't made up its mind about another boom or a small scare. Stock gamblers will lose in the long run, whether they gamble on the long or the short side.

Those who believe that sound properties in the United States are selling for more than they are worth, will be surprised when they find what such properties really are worth.

Col. Lindbergh is said to be constructing some kind of new airplane, invented or perfected by him, Henry Ford co-operating in his Detroit air plant.

Mr. Ford, who has a great admiration for the young American flier and went flying with him, will oblige this country if he persuades Lindbergh to interest himself in building planes instead of doing stunts in the air.

Lindbergh, Inventor.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

The death of Max Hart, victim of pneumonia, ends a career honorable and useful to this country.

Brought to America as a child from Germany, with his brother, Harry Hart, who survives him, the two brothers began working in childhood and have worked ever since without cessation.

Only a few days ago this writer talked with Max Hart in Chicago, asking why he continued long working hours at 75 years of age, with a fortune accumulated.

"I work," said Max Hart, "because I like work, and because my associates and I, in doing work that we need not do, provide work for thousands of others that do need work and encourage young men starting in business for themselves."

Max Hart was a good American.

The Imperial Wizard Hiram W. Evans says Knights of the Ku Klux Klan will wear masks no longer, and will be known as "Knights of the Great Forest."

That concession to public opinion may mean gradual dwindling away of the formerly hooded brotherhood.

You lose your influence when you appeal to men's common sense instead of appealing to their fear of the mysterious.

As Gabriel writes down, every minute of each day all that happens, what events seem important to his celestial mind.

THE HINDMOST THROG

Books that live always have one element in common. It is understanding of human nature.

Read the Iliad or the Divine Comedy or Don Quixote or Hamlet or the works of the old Biblical writers and you see them sketch in the lines of human nature in their pictures of men and of times.

Listen to sly old Homer thus describe the meeting of Ajax and Hector and their followers on the plains of Troy:

"He, with proud step, protected by his shield. On every side the hostile ranks surveyed. If signs of yielding he might trace; but they Unshaken stood; and with like haughty mien, Ajax at Hector thus defiance hurled."

He said, and led them on; with eager cheer. They followed; shouted loud the hindmost throng."

The hindmost cheer loud; they are farthest from the danger. Distance lends not only enchantment, but belligerence as well, in the realms of human nature.

Take preachers, for instance. (You might as justly take any other class of people.) In small villages where "high society" is not, it is condemned vigorously; and in big cities where it is, ministers preach against the "narrow-mindedness" characteristic of somewhere else. In Ohio they sock Mormons and in Utah they sock something equally remote.

The story of Joan of Arc is the story of followers that believed in her mission when she was carrying everything before her and who began to grumble and doubt as soon as she met a reverse in fortune.

They shouted loudest when they were farthest from defeat. Every leader knows the bitterness of this element in human nature. Christ met it time and again and it was one of the things that depressed him most.

The men who have been valuable have been the ones who could keep on shouting just as loud when they came into the zone of action.

It is a good plan for each of us to spend a little time occasionally checking up on the "causes" we fight for. If they concern things far removed and for which all of our associates are also fighting, they may be mere causes of the hindmost throng that require little courage to join.

Fighting small evils near at hand often requires more courage than joining the battle against big ones far distant.

Perhaps the courage of the warriors in the van is much stimulated by the shouts of those in the rear, and it is easier to be a hero with the multitude behind you than to be a hero alone.

But it might be well for the advance guard to keep in mind that those who are riding for them behind are hardly the ones who could take their place in the doubtful ridges of the battle.

DELIGHTSOME THINGS
I delight in spring rains in New York, in thick snowfall in Minnesota, and in fierce windstorms, with plenty of lightning in Kansas. I delight in the music of a fine pipe organ, old and sweet-toned, and in the singing of male choirs and choruses. I delight in the sea stories of Wilbur Daniel Steele, in the practical romances of Rafael Sabatini, and in the salty verse of John Masefield.

I delight in watching crowds of young people swimming and diving, and in watching laborers who toss red-hot rivets to one another, high up in the steel framework of new skyscrapers. I delight in the graceful evolutions of an airplane that is well handled by one who is neither afraid nor rash, and I find much joy in seeing a ship come light-heartedly in from the open sea with an expression about her which says, "How good it is to come home!"

Great towers of muscle and snow pick up pianos, tables, boxes of books and carry them from houses to moving vans, or from vans into houses, up flights of stairs, and I watch with a thrill of delight and admiration. I would be so totally helpless in such a job. I reflect. I could not move a set of wicker chairs without becoming sore and tired. These big freight-wrestlers carry mountains on their backs all day long, and go to the movies at night and laugh heartily at Harold Lloyd. I do not envy the moving man and the longshoreman what they possess, but I often feel almost ungovernable impulse to shake one of them by hand and congratulate him.

I delight in the straining and struggling of heavyweight wrestlers. How beautiful and how satisfactory their wrestling seems, compared with wrestling with words and sentences and phrases!

I delight in the singing of the cardinal, in the talk of farm-hands after the day's work is done, in the bending of a cottonwood under the lashing of a furious gale, in the quiet of dim forests when no one is near, and in the chocolate cake that my wife makes better than anyone else in the world. I delight in the old-fashioned beautiful women, oriental rugs, all kinds of roses, a friend to argue with and a horse that understands.

The fliers Costes and LeBrix, who flew to us all the way from France, have been sadly neglected. We haven't even seen their names in a cigarette ad.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A CONTINUOUS STRUGGLE.

There are all sorts of methods used by man with which to combat bugs, worms and insects. It is a never ending fight. The fittest will survive. The great Saurians of the Paleozoic Age surrendered to the lesser animals from the quagmires of that Time in Earth history. The Big Fellows neither male or female, watched their eggs carefully and the Little Fellows, like eggs very much, and the grandmothers did not have to be taught how to suck eggs either. Her the end of the Big Fellows.

Youths Confess Ellwood Robbery, Among Others

International News Service.
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 25.—A series of daring robberies in Ellwood City, New Brighton, Elizabeth, Bertha and North Bessemer appeared today to have been solved following the confession of a bandit gang composed of four youths, their ages ranging from 17 to 19.

The quartet was given a preliminary hearing in a police court here today and held without bond for further procedure. They are Sylvester Barton of New York, William Hagman and Carl Shelby of Pittsburgh and Ralph Sertino, who said he had no home town.

Barton was captured early this morning after a chase by Pittsburgh police who found him trying to dispose of clothing to cab drivers at a taxi station here. After a flight of several blocks, young Barton stopped when the officers fired their revolvers. After questioning Barton, detectives learned the hiding place of the rest of the gang.

An auto belonging to the Patton & Campbell garage, Ellwood City, was recovered. Police said the youths had taken another machine at New Brighton, which later was found, wrecked. The loot secured by the four boys is expected to total over $2,000. Most of the merchandise was taken from the A. E. Conner & Sons store at Ellwood City.

YOUTH FACES LIFE IMPRISONMENT FOR KILLING SWEETHEART

(International News Service)
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 25.—Joseph Foster Buckley, faced life imprisonment today, as the result of having been found guilty of murder in the second degree in connection with the shooting of his sweetheart, Miss Grace E. Mills.

The Middlesex county jury, which tried the case, deliberated six and a half hours.

Sentence will not be pronounced for 20 days, however, as the law allows that length of time for filing of appeals or exceptions by the defense.

SENATE PROBERS WILL MAKE TRIP TO INDIANA, PA.

and composed of Senators Wheeler (D) of Montana, Wagner (D) of New York and Pine (R) of Oklahoma. Plans to wind up its inquiry in the Pittsburgh area and launch an investigation in the Central Pennsylvania field, making headquarters in Indiana, Pa.

Out of the numberless stories of brutality, suffering and distress which have been laid before the committee one of the most gripping came at the Kinloch mine of the Valley Vista Coal Company where the lives of ten non-union men were crushed out last Monday in an explosion.

The committee arrived at the mine shortly after the burial of the men. In a frame office the senators grouped around the mine superintendent.

Through windows, stained with dirt and grime, the dark entrance to the mine loomed up sinister and cold. A high steel fence, surmounted by two strands of sagging barbed wire, enclosed the property. At the gate stood a sergeant of state troopers. He was attired in a natty, military uniform. A full cartridge belt, strung cossack-like over his shoulders, and a service automatic at his side, gave him the appearance of a motion picture hard-boiled top sergeant.

Union Pickets Shout

On the public road two groups of union pickets were calling at black-faced miners who were leaving the pits. "Join the union, be a man!" they hollered. The workers kept walking, eyes straight ahead.

A hundred and one questions were shot at the superintendent by the committee.

"Do you think a 100 men would have lost their lives if the explosion had happened in the daytime?" asked Senator Wheeler.

"Yes, yes, I guess so," came the slow reply.

"Have you got any records of these men?"

The superintendent spoke to a clerk in shirt sleeves. The clerk scurried to another room and brought back ten yellow slips.

On them were the names of the dead men, their age, the size of their families, their previous mining experience.

Scrawled across the pale yellow slips which the clerk tossed aside on a desk was the single word, "Deceased." Thus ended the record. Outside the pickets still called at workers on their way to the pits.

During the tour Senator Gooding has questioned several strikers about the activities of alleged Communists. The miners charged that "radicals" were trying "to bore within" the union to overthrow the present leadership.

At one of the Pittsburgh Coal Company's mines, a division superintendent refused to give the committee figures on the cost of production, but promised that the costs would be presented later by higher officials of the company.

SEEK COMPROMISE IN BATTLE OVER FLOOD CONTROL

provide the money to set the flood prevention machinery in motion, but would name an economic commission to investigate the ability of the valley states to bear part of the expense.

Rep. Madden (R) of Illinois, chairman of the House Appropriations committee, took the lead in an effort to bring Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago to agreement on a compromise.

As chairman of the Chicago Flood Control conference, which included prominent figures in the official and financial life of the mid-west,

Thompson has repeatedly demanded a government pay all policy. This policy was embraced in the bill of the House Flood Control committee of which Rep. Frank R. Reid (R) of Illinois, a close political friend of Thompson, is chairman and author. Madden brought Rep. Tilson of Connecticut, Republican leader of the House, and Rep. Snell (R) of New York into conference with Thompson. All professed belief after the conference that an agreement could be reached.

Half-Way Fight

Rep. Reid indicated a willingness to meet the administration half way on every proposition but payment. He refused to yield to the local contribution theory.

At the same time, Sen. Jones (R) of Washington, chairman of the Senate Commerce committee, which handles flood control in that body, has indicated his unwillingness to accept the House proposal.

The War department's new plan embraces the engineering proposals of Major-General Edgar Jadwin, chief of engineers, and would give the secretary of war authority to suspend or waive payments by local levee districts which are in financial straits.

Juvenile Day In Court Of Mayor

Number Of Boys Are Before
Mayor Gillespie For Petty Offenses

This was juvenile court day for Mayor William H. Gillespie and he was kept busy from early in the morning until almost noon, listening to cases in which boys of the city had been accused of various petty offenses.

In all the cases, the mayor gave the boys a stiff lecture advising them to avoid similar performances that would bring them into police court, and were then discharged. They are to be under a sort of supervision or parole to the police authorities, who have their names and addresses.

One of the cases was that of a group of boys from the Ben Franklin Junior high school district. The boys were found to have a number of keys, including several master keys, which were confiscated. These boys were rounded up through the efforts of Detective John Young.

Another of the cases was that of two boys apprehended by Officer Llewellyn for the theft of a bicycle at the Y. M. C. A. As the owner of the bicycle was inclined to be lenient, the boys were discharged.

Two Mighty Miracles Of Mercy Brass Tacks On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

THY FAITH HATH MADE THEE WHOLE. MARK 5:34.

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL
In the two mighty works of Jesus in this lesson we have a miracle within a miracle, the healing of the woman with the issue of blood being a sort of parenthesis within the account of the raising to life of the little daughter of Jairus.

The ruler of the synagogue comes to interfere for his little twelve-year-old daughter who lies at the point of death. No matter if his religious associates have turned against the Nazarene, his love for his only child overcomes any pride or prejudice. Jairus might have had, and he faltered at his feet, and beseeched him much, saying, "My little daughter is at the point of death: I pray thee that thou come and lay thy hands on her, that she may be made whole and live." Yes, "a little child shall lead them!" How many today are led to Christ through a consciousness of their children's need rather than their own.

The pitiable plea of Jairus strikes a responsive cord in the Saviour's sympathetic heart, and he starts immediately for the sorrow-stricken home: "and he went with him, and a great multitude followed him and they thronged him." Every second's delay tore at the anguished father's heart strings. Haste meant everything to the dying child of his love. Then Jesus deliberately stopped to ask the apparent foolish question: "Who touched my garments?" The disciples thought it a foolish question, and said to him, "Thou seest the multitudes thronging thee and saying, 'Thou who touch me?'" They failed to realize the truth later expressed by St. Augustine in the words, "Flesh presses, faith touches." Thousands of those who rubbed shoulders with Christ were miles and miles from him in matters of sympathy or interest or faith.

But this poor woman, with a dis-

ROSE POINT

There will be Sunday school at the M. E. church Sabbath morning at 11 o'clock.

There will be church services at the R. P. church Sabbath morning at 11 o'clock, followed by Sabbath school, Christian Endeavor at 7:30 p. m.

The annual booster banquet of the Rose Point C. Y. P. conference was held Wednesday evening, Feb. 22, in the ballroom of the General Broadhead hotel, Beaver Falls. A crowd of over 300 happy, hungry folks surrounded the table with every intention of doing ample justice to the toothsome viands served to them. Following the dinner the remainder of the evening was devoted to interesting addresses, etc. Plans for reaching a higher mark in 1928 were presented. If the interest and enthusiasm manifested there count for anything, they surely argue well for a recordbreaking attendance at the conference next summer. Those from Rose Point were Mr. Todd, Bernice Beryl and Anna Virginia Stickle, Rev. T. A. McElharm, Margaret McElharm, Rev. and Mrs. P. D. McCracken, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McElwain, Rose Munnell, Adeline McFarland, Ruth Kelland, Mrs. J. G. Kelland, Laura Boggs, Findley Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Wilson and Clarence McElwain.

A crowded house greeted the contestants of the Princeton and Bessemer high school Thursday evening, Feb. 23, at the literary contest held between the two schools in the Presbyterian church, Princeton. While Bessemer won four points and Princeton but one, those interested in Princeton feel that they have cause to be proud of their young folks, as the contest was close.

Rose Point is now one of the regular stops of the Cleveland-Pittsburgh bus for passengers going into Ohio. Calvin Wright of Princeton Station was a Rose Point caller Wednesday.

Boyce Pryor is working near Plaingrove this winter.

The Mandolin Club of the Portersville and Princeton high schools furnished the music for the literary contest at Princeton Thursday night, Feb. 23.

James Fox was a caller in Rose Point Wednesday.

Clarence McElwain of Harlansburg road visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McElwain, Wednesday.

Miss Margaret McElwain was a New Castle visitor Wednesday.

Mrs. William Reesman of Grant City, who has for some time been in Warren, expects to return home Saturday.

Mrs. M. E. Morrow, who has been ill for some time at the home of her son, Willis, is still confined to her bed.

Rev. and Mrs. P. D. McCracken have returned home after a short visit in Beaver Falls, Pa.

Kentucky Minister To Lead Campaign At Central Christian

W. Graham Walker, Evangelist To Begin Series Of Services February 28

Central Christian church of this city is fortunate in being able to secure W. Graham Walker of Lexington, Kentucky, who is kept very busy conducting evangelistic meetings, to lead them in a campaign beginning on Tuesday, February 28. It is announced.

This noted evangelist of the Christian churches, who was for six years the pastor of the First Church of Christ at Altoona, is now in his seventh consecutive year in the evangelistic work. He has held meetings from New York state to California and from Dominion of Canada to Mexico with remarkable results.

Mr. Walker who follows a constructive type of evangelism, adopting his program to the needs of the local field, is a speaker of splendid ability, possesses a rare and unusual voice, coupled with an exceptionally attractive personality, compels attention and admiration.

The people of all churches hear him gladly. He has something in his message for every one, is fearless in his denunciation of sin and declares the whole counsel of God without perversion or compromise. He does not hesitate to call things by their right names and yet, there is nothing vulgar about his preaching.

Mr. Walker will arrive in the city the fore part of the week after a week's rest at his home, later he goes to St. Louis, Missouri, for a Pre-Easter campaign.

Topic for the week: "THE FORGIVENESS OF SIN"
Saturday: "The Cleansing Light"
SCRIPTURE: Memory verse: God is light! I John 1:5.
Read: I John 1.
MEDITATION: We commonly think that the chief function of the sun is to give illumination. But light is quite as much for cleansing as for illumination. It is the sun that keeps the world clean. It destroys impurities and the places that breed impurities. There are germs and other causes of disease that cannot live in the sunlight. Sunshine is the great antisepic. God gives illumination to our minds. But He also cleanses them. No evil thing can live in the light of His presence. We often wrestle with evil when the more effective way of ridding ourselves of it would be to let God shine in. God's presence will cleanse us of sin that may have defiled all our efforts of will. "The Lord is my light and my salvation."
O God, Thou great Light of life who shinest into every heart that opens itself to Thee, shine Thou into our hearts this day. Cleanse us from all iniquity and lurking evil. Purify our motives and make chaste our thoughts that the house of our souls may become sweet and wholesome. In Jesus's name. Amen.

'First Edition' Show At Yale Is Viewed At 1928 Reunion

International News Service
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 25.—Yale alumni here for their annual mid-winter reunion on Washington's Birthday, saw a portion of Yale's 6700 volumes of American literature, displayed for the first time at as "First Edition Show." The monetary value of the display was enormous. Volumes raised from the first edition of Washington Irving's "Sketch Book" through Poe's "Al Aaraaf" and Hawthorne's "Fanshawe" of anonymous publication to Edwin Arlington Robinson's privately printed "The Torrent and the Night Before," of fairly modern birth.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin," "Evangelism," "The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table" stood out in clear, clean copies as though just off the press, and Leaves of Grass" in the rare Brooklyn editions was on hand.

Owen F. Aldis, Yale 1874, started the collection in 1911 by giving the University his entire library of first editions.

It is the motive of our doing that blesses, rather than the work itself. —Albert D. Belden.

Social Study In First Grade Classes

Teacher Of Beginners In West Side School Teaches Practical Lessons

Little tots of six years of age are given practical lessons in social study in addition to the regular routine of the "three R's," according to Miss Helen Maxwell, teacher of the beginners in the West Side school.

The children are allowed to express their idea of certain activities carried on in the home and in the community by drawing of original pictures of how to hang clothes on a line, how a car should be driven and also by stories and other ways these lessons are impressed on their minds.

These lessons are not only confined to such stories as The Three Bears, Cinderella and home activities, but lessons are learned out in the community. The teacher will lead them into the activities of the fire department, explaining the trucks, the clothing of the firemen, how the men work on different trucks and the building, then finally a visit is made to the local station and everything they have talked over is seen. Also safety lessons on fire prevention and the turning in of alarms are taught to these little tots. Then follow the post office department, the merchants of the city and their articles of sale, etc.

The children also use the moving picture to help with their lessons. These movies being manufactured entirely by themselves. Pictures of such a story as The Little Red Hen are drawn in a series and these pasted on a strip of paper that is wrapped on a roll and these rotated in order from a box. The children never seem to tire of these movies and some operate the crude machine and others sit as the audience.

West Side School Start Thrift Clubs

Student Officer Of Clubs Conduct Business At Weekly Meetings

Thrift clubs have been organized in the 6A, 6B and 3A classes in the West Side school and the other classes in grades 4 and 5 expect to organize clubs in the near future, according to Miss Martha Matthews, who has charge of the thrift work in these classes.

Each Wednesday morning these clubs meet and conduct a business meeting under the direction of members of the classes who have been elected by the class. The business meeting consists of giving out the bank-books, depositing of money in banks and the return and locking up of bank books. In answering the thrift roll call the scholars answer with the amount they saved that week rather than merely answering present.

After the business meeting a program on thrift is held in which clippings from newspapers dealing with subjects on thrift, both in New Castle and other cities, are handed in and discussed. Then stories on thrift are given, some original and some reviews something read.

The following original story was written by Betty Kay Matthews of the 5A class:

"The word 'thrift' means frugality, increase of wealth and economical management. This saving habit we should learn and start with our pennies, and the habit will continue with us as the years go along. This saving habit brings us much happiness as a reward where the spending habit for candy and foolish things brings no reward.

"If you buy candy and things that are not good for you, you will be like a little boy I know. This is what happened:

"There were once two boys, one had the saving habit, the other the spending habit. When summer time came there was a baseball club started and each boy must furnish his own suit to belong to the team. So these boys wanted to belong, too. John, who had saved his money, bought a baseball outfit, but Jack, who spent all his money on foolish things, could not. So, which would you rather be?" Each week reports of the class making the best thrift record and of the pupil in each class leading in thrift are made. Since last September every pupil in grades 4, 5 and 6 have saved a coin every week. Sometimes the coin is only a penny, sometimes a nickel, dime, quarter, and occasionally $2 or more are saved. The classes have arranged a loan system whereby a scholar may borrow a coin which he may have lost or left at home. These loans are very diligently repaid generally at the next school session.

SHOWS ABILITY IN SCHOOL PLAY

NORMAN LEWIS

We saw Norman last as a small, ragged, barefoot boy. The part he portrays in the coming Senior High school play, "The Tightwad", proves this young man to be very versatile. Here we find him the father of a son who has a champagne appetite and a beer pocketbook, and a daughter whose interest is divided between a career and a husband. All in all, he carries the burden of the average husband and father of a modern family. He has saved a few thousand dollars to make life easier in his old age. Come to the play and see whether he decides to leave his money in the bank at three per cent interest, or invest it and perhaps lose all—or perhaps gain a fortune.

GARDNER

Mrs. Albert Van Wegen of Gardner spent two days recently at the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Smith of North Sewickley.

The blind evangelist Rev. Mr. Houston will begin a ten days revival service at the Center United Presbyterian church, on Tuesday, February 28. Rev. Claude Downs, pastor of Savannah M. E. church, and Mrs. Downs were guests on Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cotton of the Harlansburg road. Mrs. Downs entertained her Sunday school class of girls in the church last Thursday night and Mrs. Boober entertained her class of boys at the church on Tuesday night. These affairs were carefully planned and were greatly enjoyed by all the young people present. Mr. Samuel Connors of this church has been quite ill but is now improving.

Fred Fenton of Youngstown was a recent guest at the home of his uncle and aunt, Attorney C. W. Fenton and Mrs. Fenton of Wilkinson Stop.

Miss Isabel Zehner of the New Castle-Ellwood highway was hostess to Miss Esther Texter and Mr. Boots of Frisco on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. John J. King of Shenango Stop has been quite ill for several days with a severe sore throat and lung congestion but is now improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Pettit and two children of New Castle are now occupying the home at Shenango Stop, left vacant by the Earhart family when they moved to Sharon recently.

Last Thursday Harrison Kirkwood of Woodlawn came to Gardner and asked his mother Mrs. John Kirkwood of her sister Mrs. Hites to go home with him, as his youngest child, a little boy of two years was ill with infantile paralysis. While Harrison was still in Gardner word came that the child had passed away. His parents and aunt went at once to Woodlawn. Harrison and his family lived for several years in Gardner and the family have the sympathy of all their old neighbors in this hour of sadness.

Rev. Mr. Wagner held revival services all this week at the Mission at the Valley View school house. There has been an inspirational song service each evening and the interest has deepened from night to night.

Beaver Falls Tops Ellwood; Score 22-16

Beaver Falls High Defeats
Ellwood City In Fast
Game Friday Night

Ellwood City High Maidens Defeat Beaver Falls Lassies, 18-15

By "TONY" PASTA.

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Feb. 25.—After holding the strong Beaver Falls passers down in the first half 12-11 in Ellwood's favor, Coach Lee's Basket- teers dropped another as the valley quintet outscored them in the second session with the game ending 22-16. Last night's contest, which took place at the Lincoln gym proved to be a real thriller.

Ellwood secured some average though as the Blue and White maid- ens came through with an 18 to 15 win over the Beaver Falls lassies in the prelim game. This contest was equal to that of the boys for thrills. Beaver Falls started off with a good lead as they scored six points in the first quarter and Lee's cagers were held to a single field goal which was dropped in by MacMurdo. Ellwood missed several good chances to score.

Lineup Revamped
John King was sent in for Freidoff after Lawrence had already substituted for Justine who showed up poorly in the first part of the fray and with this new combination a rally was staged by the Tubers. During the second quarter Lee's charges piled up ten tallies while the Tigers secured five allowing Ellwood to lead at the end of the half by a single point.

Things went different in the next session as Coach Heckathorn's lads collected six pointers and held the Blue and White scoreless. Justine kept Ellwood from losing by a larger margin when he redeemed himself for the poor performance in the early part of the contest by caging two goals—one of them a long shot. This period was more interesting as the Orange and Black secured only one more tally than their opponents.

Sarda Proves Star
MacMurdo played his usual steady game on the offensive with J. King and Justine leading the scoring end of the affair. Freidoff and Lawrence showed unusual performance also. Garga, flashy forward for the Heckathorne machine, led the attack for Beaver Falls and was capably assisted by Haggart and Hendrickson. The last two were very effective from the foul line each getting two out of three.

Vorone Ross Stars
Irene Ross again led her team mates to victory getting revenge for the defeat received at the hands of the valley maidens in the first encounter. Leading by merely one point Sara McGoun's lassies continued their fighting spirit to maintain the lead.

Hopes seemed to falter for Ellwood's feminine team when Turner was taken out for personal fouls and Steir soon followed via the same route. But the Blue and White had mastered the lead and when the "Tigers" tried to grasp it it was too late as the game ended 18-15 favor the Tubers.

Steir and Turner formed a good combination at the center positions and were successful in getting the ball toward the goal. Close guarding by Bourne and Dunbar helped to keep the Tiger maidens from tallying.

Play Zelenopie Tonight
Tonight Coach Lee's passers will travel to Zelenopie where a double-header is to take place. This contest was to take place last week but was postponed. This should be an easy victory for Ellwood as the Butler county team is playing with almost a second team lineup being minus the services of four regulars.

Entertains Class Here Friday Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 25.—Members of the Dorcas class of the Baptist church numbering 20 were entertained Friday evening at the home of Mrs. F. L. Schweitzer of Line avenue, the occasion being their regular semi-monthly meeting.

The larger part of the evening was spent rehearsing the play, "A Jury Trial", which will be presented in conjunction with the Ladies' Aid dollar social at the Baptist church March 15.

A social feature of last night's meeting was a hankie shower on Mrs. Tom Foley, who leaves next week to reside permanently in Pittsburgh. A special guest present was Mrs. Charles Riley of New York City, a former president of the class.

Later delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, who had as her aides Mrs. Thomas McDonald and Mrs. H. M. Anderson. Mrs. H. M. Lee will entertain the class at the next meeting.

The Daybook

OF A
New Yorker

BY BURTON RASCOE

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The day has arrived on which the particular hotel guest may offer his dog a menu. There is one flossy establishment which serves a regular meal-table d'hotel—for discriminating hounds every day. The meal costs, I believe 50 cents and is served formally by a waiter. And if you have a particularly fussy mutt you may order special dishes from the dog chef. It is also considered proper to train your pet to wag his head from side to side at the conclusion of the meal as the waiter stretches out a spotless napkin in front of the hound's nose. If you doubt, consult Emily Post on "Dining Canine."

I would include in the list of Manhattan fantasies the man whose wife is just a bit balmy. Every so often according to Walter Winchell he takes her out of the private sanatorium in which she is confined and takes her on a spree. The pair came into Tex Guinan's saloon, the other night and someone whispered the inside dirt to Tex. Immediately the amiable Guinan teetered over to welcome her eccentric guests.

"You know," said the lady cuckoo, "I know I'm crazy and I'm kept in a sanatorium. But how do you get away with it?" Miss Guinan was squelched for the first time.

To thousands of dreamy souls who have oftentimes imagined a world suddenly depopulated with the exception of themselves, I suggest a walk in the district below Brooklyn bridge on a Sunday. It is possible to walk block after block without seeing a single human. One's footsteps seem to echo against the myriad little dirty buildings. But only once in a great while will one find any door open—and that will be an office building entrance.

As for stores, business on Sunday in the financial section approaches the absolute zero and misses it by a hair. The area is quite lifeless. In this respect New York is unique. Most cities have a business center in which hotels and theaters are also found. But I doubt if there are more than three theaters including 10-cent move houses below Brooklyn bridge. Nor are there any hotels except flop houses on the Battery. One restaurant out of ten is likely to be open. The district which draws more than a million workers to its narrow streets on weekdays does not possibly attract more than ten thousand on Sunday. And ten thousand people enter and leave Romy's cathedral within three hours any day.

Be warned of the alert panhandler who pushes his face into the door as you are coming out of a building. When you apologize he will ask for a "dime to get a cuppa' coffee."

Talk is heard about a female impersonator who lost her job—yes her job! Some of her rivals in falsetto dialogue discovered the fact that she was really a woman and immediately raised a hue and cry until she was put off the stage. Out of the theater the woman passed as a man. And for years preceding the discovery of the hoax she shared dressing rooms with men without ever being found out. Such as we columnists are wont to observe is New York.

HOW THE SUN UNLOCKED THE LATCH OF ICE

"I agree with you, Nuthatch," said Peter heartily. "Of course, it would be too bad if Sapsucker really hurt the trees, but how taking a sip of their syrup now and then could do much damage I don't see."

"Whick! Whick!" shouted Woodpecker. "You are just as stupid as you look, two-legs. Suppose not one Sapsucker but a whole flock of them bored into one poor tree at once and sucked out the sap. What do you think would happen then?"

"Oh, if a number of them attacked it at once I am afraid that the tree would be sick!" replied the boy.

"Yes, and it would die!" added Woodpecker solemnly. But thank goodness such a thing very rarely happens. My cousins, the Sapsuckers, are rovers and never stay long in any one place. They make new homes early in the spring and as soon as the babies are large enough, off they start on their travels, and some of them are coming and going most of the time.

"I expect one of them back now almost any time. As for me, it is high time that I thought about a location for our nest. I promised wife this morning that I would keep my eyes open for a good spot to start the tunnel."

"Speaking of your wife reminds me of mine!" chirped Nuthatch. "I promised to hurry home with the food today so that wife and I could have an early dinner and spend the afternoon house hunting. But I have been having rather a hard time of it. I found every one of our storehouse doors locked up tight by the ice, and strong as my bill is it is not equal to breaking open the frozen latch. I am afraid we may have to go hungry!"

"Perhaps I can help you," said Peter eagerly. "Do let me try, will you?"

"I should be very glad to have your aid," answered Nuthatch politely, "but you see one of the storehouses is in a crevice under the roof of the barn and another is in a hole at the top of this tree and I don't see how you could possibly reach either place."

"Wait a minute, boy! You can help me after all. Do you see that wooden rail that is sticking up by the stone wall? Over there, just on the other side of this tree? Well, hidden within the middle of that is a butt-nut, and if together we can scratch away the sleet that locks the door we can dig it out."

"Fine! Let's try it!" cried Peter, and without more ado off the two friends, bird and boy, started on their errand. Nuthatch hopped upon the top of the rail and gave directions. "Just at the level of the top stone is the place," declared he. "I remember perfectly well because I stood on the wall when I tucked it in," but before he had a chance to say anything further Peter gave a shout of joy.

"Hurrah! You are a lucky fellow, Nuthatch. The sun has melted the lock and the door is open, and yes, as sure as I am born, the nut is lying in its closet, just as you said. Here it is! But it is large and as hard as a rock. How are you going to open it? It is no good to you like this, is it?"

"No, two-legs, it isn't," agreed Nuthatch. "But you just watch me!"

Sunday Evening Services During Lenten Season

Rev. Fr. F. F. O'Shea, pastor St. Mary's Parish, today announced the speakers of the Sunday evening services to be held during the Lenten season in the handsome new church of the parish.

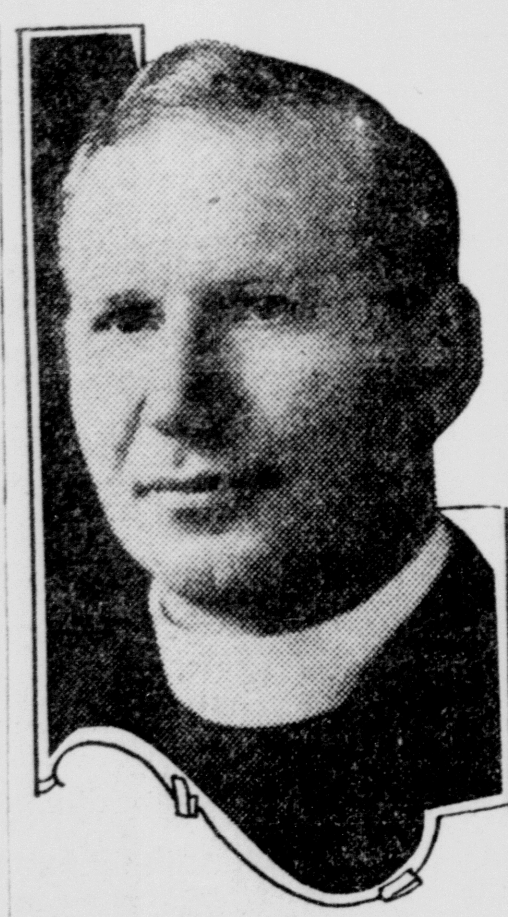

It being the first Lenten season to be observed in the new parish church, the services for the observance of the penitential season of the year, have been made of special interest and it is anticipated that the members of the parish and the people of the city will make the most of the opportunity afforded them and attend the Lenten services in large numbers.

Speakers Announced
The speakers announced for the six Sunday evening services are to be Rev. Fr. Herman Seidel, pastor St. Mary's, Beaver Falls; Rev. Fr. R. D. A. Wilkey, St. Agatha's church, Edinboro, Pa.; Rev. Fr. Patrick A. DiRanna, assistant pastor St. Vitus church, this city; Rev. Fr. A. Weisenberger, St. Joseph's church, this city; Rev. Fr. V. V. Stanciewicz, Saints Philip and James church, this city and Rev. Fr. P. J. McKenna, pastor St. Margaret's church, this city.

The speaker for the first Sunday in Lent, which this year will be Sunday, February 26th, will be Rev. Fr. Herman Seidel, pastor of St. Mary's church, Beaver Falls, Pa. Father Seidel is one of the outstanding priests of this district and an excellent speaker.

He was born and raised in Altoona, Pa. He attended St. Mary's parish school in that city and entered St. Fidelis College in 1899, graduating in 1905. He then entered St. Vincent's Seminary, Beaver Falls, Pa., conducted by the Benedictine Fathers. He was ordained July 11, 1911.

Interest in the appearance here to-morrow evening of Father Seidel, is due not only to his known ability as an orator, but to the fact that he was assistant to the Rev. F. F. O'Shea in the local parish from July 1911, to February 1912. His ability to speak the German language, prompted the Rt. Rev. Bishop to transfer him to St. Peter's, Butler, Pa., where an assistant was needed and for fourteen years, he zealously co-operated with Rev. Stenger in the work of that parish. On October 14, 1926, he was installed as pastor of St. Mary's, Beaver Falls to fill the vacancy created by the death of Rev. Peter M. Rigler.

REV. HERMAN SEIDEL,
Beaver Falls, Pa.

Sanctity of Marriage

Rev. Fr. Seidel has selected for his subject tomorrow evening, "The Sanctity of Marriage." This is a subject that interests the majority of people, for in our modern twentieth century high-speed life, where traditions held dear by our forefathers are related to the scrap heap, by some who would have us believe that they are of the "Intelligentsia," it is refreshing to hear occasionally a clear and understandable explanation of the marriage contract, which Christ raised to the dignity of a sacrament at Cana of Galilee.

Proponents of the companionate marriage and of the flexible contract which is binding only "while love lasts" would apparently have us believe that, that much abused term, which we use to designate the highest exemplification of human affection cannot last "till death do us part." Human nature, however, has not changed. The dictates of the heart and conscience are definitely guiding our destinies as of yore. The future of our country is not imperiled for the simple reason that there is enough faith in the laws of God and sufficient respect for the common decencies of life to thwart any movement of such a character.

The flapper is gone and we have with us now the sober young woman of poise, with correct speech. We won't believe it until we see a girl with a rat in her hair.

Case Against Pair Of Allegheny County Officials Dismissed

Case Brought In Pittsburgh Against Armstrong And Zeifel Is Ignored

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 25.—Ignoring a charge of falsifying public records, the case against Allegheny County Commissioner Joseph C. Armstrong and William H. Zeifel, chief clerk in the County Commission office, was dismissed by a grand jury here today and the costs of the proceedings placed on Mrs. J. O. Miller, State President of the League of Women Voters, who filed the bill against Armstrong and Zeifel.

The charges developed from an alleged "one-man" meeting on March 28, 1925, when records were alleged to have marked the presence of Commissioner A. C. Gumbert, who has died since. Gumbert was said to have been away at the time.

INTRODUCTION OF THE NEW KONJOLA MEDICINE HAILED

Many People Call At Love & Megown
Drug Store Before Scheduled Date.

Immediately following Tuesday's announcement that the new, advanced medicine Konjola, was to be introduced in New Castle, many local people were eagerly seeking this medicine and telling of reports about it which they had received from relatives and friends at Akron, Cleveland and other large cities.

THE KONJOLA MAN

Many who called at the Love & Megown drug store, 204 East Washington St., stated they already knew about this medicine and some had secured it thru acquaintances at larger cities.

The extent to which this Konjola has aroused interest proves very clearly that health troubles, due to disordered stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, are so common that thousands are suffering daily. The forms of misery described by a great many sufferers interviewed yesterday, were as follows:—

STOMACH: Indigestion, gas and bloating, feeling like a rock in the stomach, which in reality is a mass of undigested food, dyspepsia, intense pain in the stomach and chest, wild heart palpitation, feeling like fire from the throat to the pit of the stomach, awful headaches, loss of weight, tissue and strength, sour stomach, cramps, spitting up bits of half-digested food and a hot, sour liquid.

LIVER: Attacks of biliousness, sick headaches that may last for days, constipation, dizzy spells, yellowish complexion.

KIDNEYS: Sharp pains over the kidneys, a dull, aching feeling across the back, stiffness in the back and lower limbs, especially in the mornings just before arising, frequent getting up thru the night, dizziness, spots before the eyes, swelling of ankles, feet and lower limbs, puffs or dark circles beneath the eyes, lack of vitality.

BOWELS: Painful, heavy, bloated feeling in the lower stomach, headaches, worn-out feeling, sleeplessness.

Many other forms of suffering frequently arise from the weakened condition of the system that results from a sluggish, disordered stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. For instance, there may be rheumatic and neuritis trouble with its agonizing aches and pains over the body.

The above forms of suffering yield readily to the work of Konjola, and this medical preparation has so completely ended the health troubles of so many thousands, wherever introduced, that it is declared to be what countless sufferers in this section have always needed.

The Konjola Man, direct from Akron, Cleveland and other large cities, will be at the Love & Megown drug store, 204 East Washington St., New Castle, at 9 o'clock every morning. He will personally meet the public and explain this surprising medicine, as well as pass out literature and free samples.

Plans Progress For St. David's Day

Expect Great Gathering Here To Greet Secretary James
J. Davis

By W. A. JOHNS

Celebration of St. David's day in honor of the great apostle and leader of the Welsh people is going to be a grand affair in our city this year. The Welsh ladies of our city have taken the matter in hand this time and they never go half way with anything whatever. They always carry their undertakings to the limit.

In the first place, they have secured the holding of the celebration in the best building of the city, the Scottish Rite Cathedral, a building worthy of the Hon. James J. Davis, secretary of labor in Coolidge's cabinet.

Mrs. John Evans has been selected to take care of the program and she will be on her very best as usual. Mrs. Frank Reynolds, wife of Officer Reynolds, is the president of the Women's Welsh Club, and she, with the help of other members, is doing everything possible for the success of the event.

Mrs. Reynolds made a good move in securing the services of the Hon. Mr. Davis as the chief speaker of the affair. To our knowledge this is the first visit of Mr. Davis to our city under the auspices of the Welsh people. Many efforts have been made before to secure his services, but every time he was engaged somewhere else. So at last he is coming to our city on March 3 to the celebration of St. David and no doubt every Welshman will be on the dot to give him the hand of fellowship and to listen to his wonderful speech.

The committee also has secured the services of one of the leading pianists of the city for the event in the young musician, Prof. Edwin Lewis, and also have engaged the services of the young conductor of music in the First Christian church of New Castle, to take care of the music for the blessed occasion. So, Saturday, March 3, will be the mecca of the Welsh people at the city of New Castle.

Next Saturday will be glorious

To the Welsh.
Their number will be numerous;
Yes, the Welsh.
Cathedral be their motto,
Their voices highly echo,
The tenor, bass and alto
Of the Welsh.

Jim Davis be the speaker
Of the Welsh,
And Lewis be the player
Of the Welsh;
Prof. Johns, the leader,
Will lead the singing proper;
So singing will be wonder
With the Welsh.
Yours very truly,
WM. A. JOHNS.

THIEL STUDENTS FAVOR HOOVER

Straw Vote Taken Among Students Friday; Vote Against 18th Amendment

(Special To The News)
GREENVILLE, Pa., Feb. 25.—The following are results from a straw vote taken among students at Thiel College, on Friday, February 24. For presidential nomination Hoover led by an overwhelming majority, Dawes was second, and Smith was third in the list.

By a slight majority the 18th amendment was decided unsuccessful. Approximately half of those who declared the amendment unsuccessful favored modification.

The majority of students at Thiel College favored formal membership in the League of Nations. By a majority of 24 the American policy of intervention in Nicaragua was condemned.

It was almost unanimously voted that Hickman, girl-slaver, was sane. Companionate marriage was downed by a substantial majority.

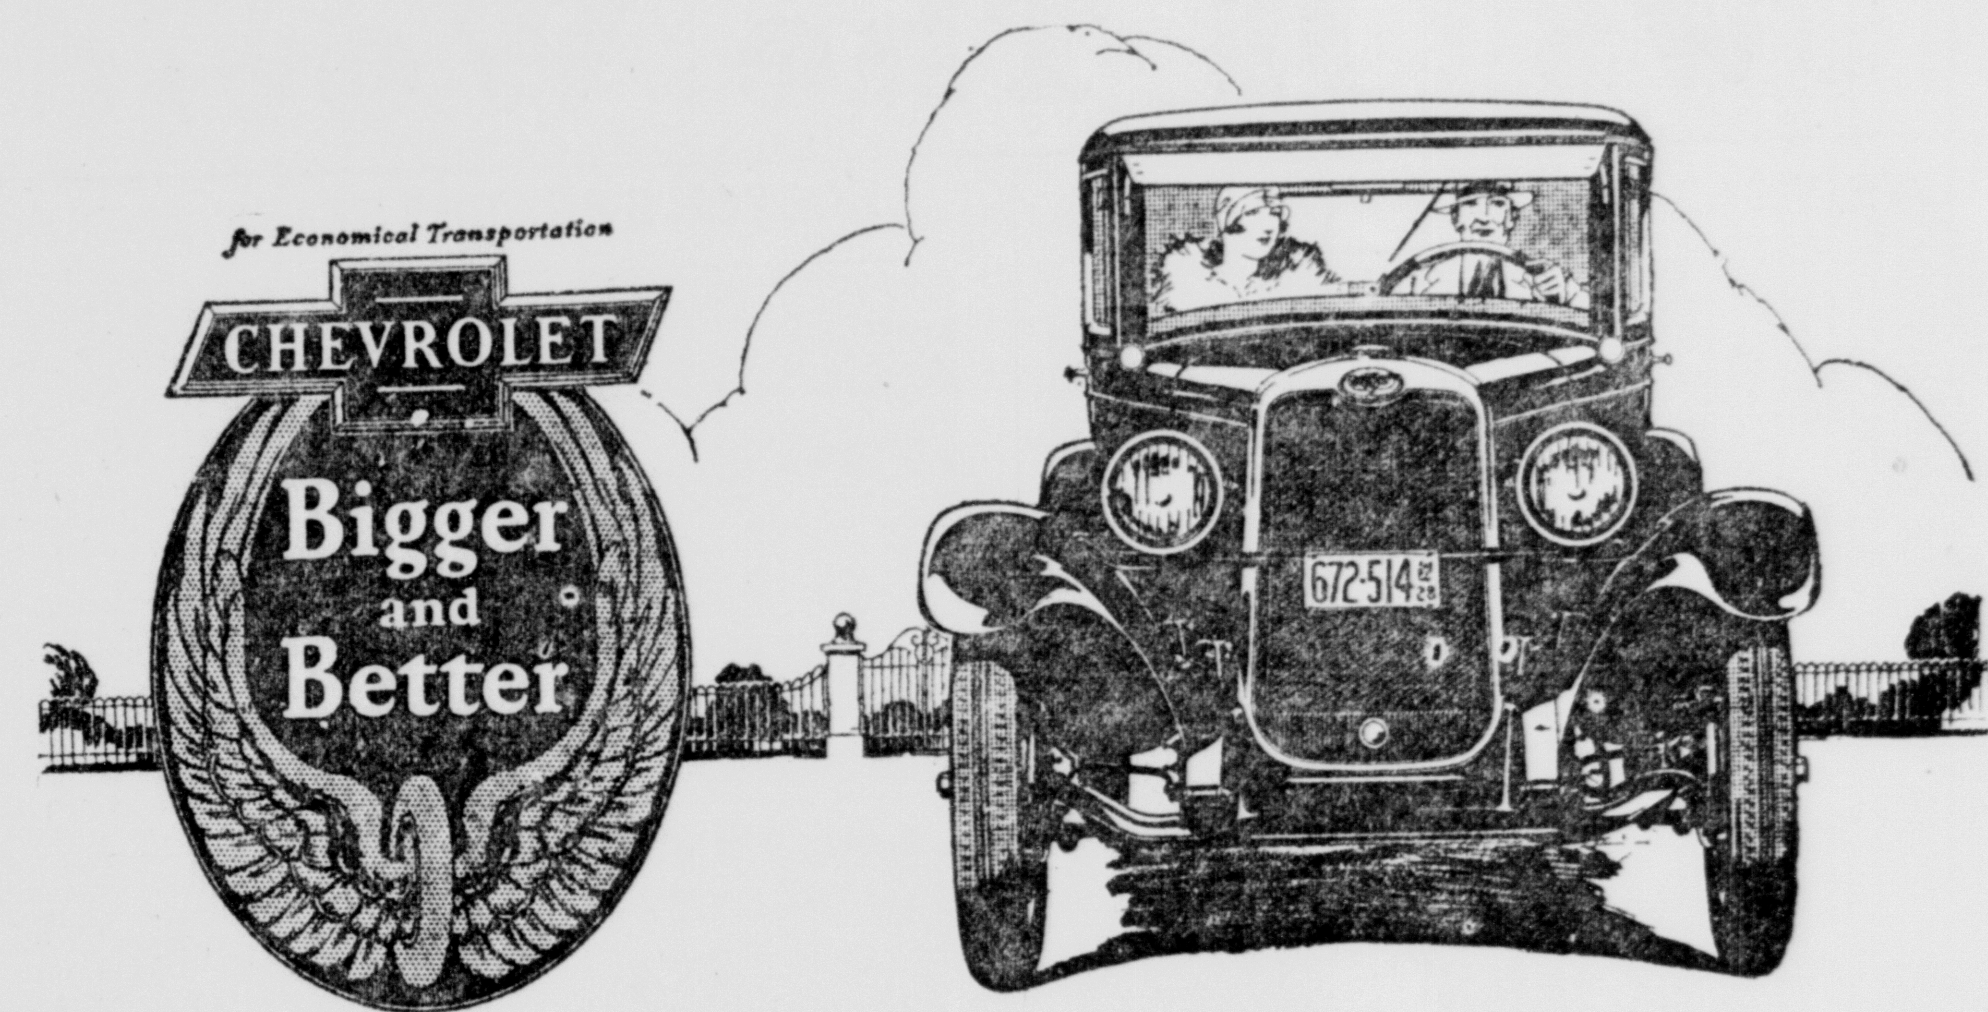

The honor system in college was upheld, examinations were voted down, and compulsory chapel was defeated by a small majority.

There is a church in the north of Scotland, which, during the shooting season, is largely attended by sportsmen and ghillies. The latter occasionally bring their collies with them.

One Sunday the usual minister was on holiday and his substitute was discovered to possess a droning, monotonous voice. This caused one of the collies to commence whining unceasingly.

The angry clergyman said: "Kindly take that dog away at once."

The owner of the dog, a brawny, independent Highlander, arose, and glowering at the man in the pulpit, remarked: "It was you that began it."

Six months ago they married and are living happily in a tiny studio in Chelsea, London's Greenwich Village. Above, Mrs. Sean O'Casey.

The Epic Of Beecher's Island Conclusion

THE DAY AFTER CARPENTER'S RELIEF COLUMN REACHED FORSYTH AT BEECHER'S ISLAND. A LARGE BODY OF HORSEMEN WAS SEEN APPROACHING. IT PROVED TO BE THE FORCE FROM FORT WALLACE UNDER COL. BANKHEAD WHICH HAD MARCHED TO THE FORT OF THE REPUBLICAN AND THENCE UP THE VALLEY OF THE ARIZONA.

AMONG THE FIRST OF THE NEWCOMERS TO RUSH TO THE SIDE OF THE WOUNDED FORSYTH WAS JACK STILLWELL, THE BRAVE BOY WHO HAD RISKED HIS LIFE TO CARRY FORSYTH'S APPEAL FOR HELP TO FORT WALLACE. YOUNG STILLWELL LATER STUDIED LAW AND BECAME A JUDGE IN TEXAS.

THE COMBINED FORCES ON BEECHER'S ISLAND WERE NOW STRONG ENOUGH TO BEAT OFF ANY ATTACK OF THE HOSTILES, BUT THE SERIOUS CONDITION OF THE WOUNDED MADE A SPEEDY RETURN TO FORT WALLACE IMPERATIVE. THE EXPEDITION LEFT THE FATAL ISLAND AND WITHIN FOUR DAYS REACHED THE FORT.

THE NATION WAS THRILLED BY THE PLUCKY STAND OF "SANDY" FORSYTH AND HIS SCOUTS, AND THEIR RESCUE BY CARPENTER AND BANKHEAD. IN TIME FORSYTH RECOVERED FROM HIS WOUNDS AND AS A REWARD FOR HIS SERVICES WAS MADE A BREVET BRIGADIER-GENERAL IN THE "REGULARS".

Rio And Pollock Sell Themselves

Pollock Believes He Has Chance To Beat Cleveland "Flash"

THREE OTHER BOUTS HERE MONDAY NIGHT

By ED FRITZ.
 OT so long ago a friend medical student, who aspires to some day to be a leading pathologist, following a heavy rest, fell asleep in a hotel lobby chair and realizing that he was breathing heavily he gently shoved him "Late hours?" was suggested. He smiled then blandly remarked in the terms that he will employ when he becomes a pathologist, "Vitalis nemo sine nascitur."
 All of which means that he delivered a telling blow when he said "No one is born free from faults." Late hours doesn't mean much in a reporter's life but we'll confess that among the duties of Yours Truly is that of exploitation for everything smacking of athletics and according to some people exploitation of sports is a fault when it is over-emphasized.
 However, over-emphasis isn't necessary in the coming bout between Frankie Rio and Johnny Pollock Monday night at the Old Armory as they really sold themselves to the public a week ago and they'll cash in on the fruit of their pugilistic endeavor 48 hours hence. And they deserve to cash in as they are two of the best disciples of pugilism to be shown to date by Bill Jolly.
 Frankie came to New Castle several weeks ago. He made his debut by knocking out his first antagonist here and followed this feat with similar climaxes until he clashed with Johnny Pollock who confesses he doesn't exactly in tiptop physical shape last Monday night. However Pollock made things decidedly busy for Frankie and though he was knocked down in the sixth round he gave Rio a close fight.
 Finish Training Here.
 Johnny believes that he can make the fight closer, in fact, he believes he can beat Rio and should he turn the trick Monday night he doesn't need to worry as to where he will get his money for any new spring attire he may desire. The world in general loves a winner and New Castle is a part of the world. Hence the reason why Frankie and Johnny hope to win the decision.
 From what the writer is told there will be quite a few ladies present at the bout as they have been informed that the main bout performers possess that grace which is seldom seen except on a stage. As a large percentage of the feminine folk admire grace they propose attending the bout to see what sort of versiphsorean stars the boys are. They need not fear their hopes will be blighted as both are clever with their feet and know how to dance, pugilistically.
 Jimmie Dunn will don his boxing clothes tomorrow and work out with Rio at the Old Armory. Fans who haven't seen Jimmie in tight since he fought in New Castle intend to witness the workout. Jimmie can out-box any fighter he has and this preparatory work should be worth watching. Later in the afternoon Eddie Weygant will adorn his lilylike form in boxing habiliment and box with Jack Drake, 135.
 There will be three other bouts. Tony Sasper, Cleveland, battles Vivio, Pittsburgh. They are welterweights. Joe Knell alias Babe Rivers meets Jimmie O'Donnell. They will box at 126 pounds and Promoter Jolly is lining up a lightweight to clash with Jack Drake, 135.

Waynesburg To Play Westminster Tonight

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 25.—With every man in the pink of condition, a capacity crowd in sight and Andy McDonald already visioning the gate receipts, Westminster basketball team is primed for the battle tonight with Waynesburg.
 Still smarting under the close decision Westminster took over three same weeks ago in Waynesburg, the Yellow Jackets are out for gore, buckets of it, and will step out onto the Westminster gymnasium floor tonight with but one thing in the mind of each player, and that one thing the dragging of the blue and white colors in the dust.
 Not that Coach Johnny Lawther is in any frame of mind to see such a thing happen. With a conference tie in sight, unsullied by defeat, Coach Johnny is all for taking the measure of the Waynesburg lads tonight, and in this direction he is aided and abetted by Captain Tudor Lewis and Delahanty, O'Donovan, Connors, Ayers, et al.
 The game will be a warm one unless all signs go caposetic, and Market street should be jammed with automobiles from Old Main to the Hillside. Those fans within a radius of 50 miles who like their basketball in habit-forming quantities will get enough of it tonight to last until the Duquesne ruckus on Tuesday night, which ruckus is guaranteed to stimulate the heart action of even a patient suffering with low blood pressure.
 But as to the game tonight with Waynesburg, it will be a battle from whistle to whistle, with Westminster fighting frantically to stave off another wallop in the whiskers to match the one placed there in Waynesburg a moon or so ago.

Westminster Champ
 (International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 25.—Westminster College is the champion of the tri-state college basketball conference. One of the biggest upsets in western Pennsylvania college circles clinched the title for Westminster when Thiel upset Duquesne here last night, 31-28. The Dukes had a slim chance of tying Westminster for the lead.

THIEL COLLEGE UPSETS ALL DOPE
Defeats Duquesne Team On Home Floor; Geneva Wins From Waynesburg
 It was an inspired Thiel college basketball team that succeeded in taking the measure of Duquesne University Friday evening on the Pittsburgh floor, thereby definitely eliminating the Dukes from any hopes of capturing the conference crown and further strengthening Westminster's claim on the title. The final verdict was 31 to 28 in favor of Thiel.
 Breaking the Duke's winning streak of five straight games, and completely spilling pre-game prognostications, Thiel was glorious in victory. R. Bost, forward, was a material aid in the sensational win when he boosted ten of his team's points through the net. At the end of the first half, the score stood 17 to 14, in favor of Thiel, and during the last half, both teams scored 14 points, thereby bringing the score to 31 to 28.
Geneva Wins.
 At Beaver Falls, in an extra period game, Geneva won from Waynesburg by a score of 39 to 35 in a tri state conference game played Friday evening.
 Although Waynesburg managed to keep within hailing distance of Geneva's early lead, at no time in the first half was the Geneva team in danger of being overcome. Both teams fouled considerably, but during the last half the play became faster, and during the last quarter, through a surprising rally, Waynesburg managed to tie the score at 31-31.
 In the extra frame Geneva cased two field goals and four fouls while Waynesburg came along with one field goal and two fouls.
Tech Loses.
 Carnegie Tech, with 13 straight defeats staring her in the face, was not good enough to stop the whirlwind attack of West Virginia University at Pittsburgh last evening, losing by a score of 33 to 30. Although they led at half time by a five point margin, the Mountaineers succeeded in tying and then leading the Tartans.

The organization is similar to the American Bowling Congress, which controls ten-pin tournaments. Men's and ladies' events in the singles, doubles and quintets are the classifications for entry. ## SPEAKING OF VETS

There's Old Grover Hartley On The Job

By JACK SORDS
 Thirty-nine years old, if he's a day, but still able to step in there and catch a bang-up game of ball.
 Such is Grover Hartley, seasoned veteran of some 15 hot campaigns, but as agile and frisky as the freshest rookie in the squad.
 Hartley went south this year with the Cleveland youngsters to give the eager rookie moundmen a lot of pointers on what to throw and how to throw it.
 In his day the grizzled vet caught such nifty flingers as Christy Mathewson, Jeff Tesreau and other stars of the New York Giants, and Manager Roger Peckinpaugh of the Indians feels that Hartley is just the boy to hold down such an important coaching berth.
 For years some Cleveland pitchers were an open book to American league batters, according to the experts, and "Slick" Hartley's big task will be to correct that fault. It will be his duty to teach young moundmen how to "cover up".
 Signal snatching is one of the wildest arts of the major leagues and if Hartley can teach some of the Indian moundmen the art of baffling the batters until the ball is hurtling along its way, the Ohio moundmen should prove a great deal more effective.
 While Hartley's chief job will be to act as coach this year—he having been obtained from the Boston Red Sox with that in view—he may also be expected to catch a few games himself this season.

Sportraits

GARLAND BUCKEYE

There's a lot of hard work ahead for Garland Buckeye down at the Cleveland training camp at New Orleans. The big Indian pitcher weighs 235 pounds and quite a few of these pounds will have to disappear before the start of the regular season.
 Buckeye won 10 and lost 17 games last year and wants to do a great deal better this year. His earned run average for last season was 3.95 for 205 innings.

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 25.—The New Wilmington Collegians nosed out the strong Hickory A. C. team, 31 to 30, on the floor of the Hickory gymnasium Thursday evening.

Fast and interesting from the start, both teams played with Herculean frenzy until the final whistle. At the end of the third quarter the Collegians had amassed a five-point lead, which in the end proved one point too many for the Hickories to overcome.
 McKee, with six buckets, was the outstanding star of the Hickory team, while the brothers Hutchison, with nine baskets between them, featured for the Collegians.

 New Castle High School basketball team will close their Section III schedule this evening at Evans City High. The locals must win the game tonight to deadlock Butler for the sectional championship.
 The New Castle girls team will also play at Evans City tonight, meeting the Evans City High maidens in the preliminary game. The first game will start at 7:30 o'clock.
 The locals defeated Evans City High in the initial game of 1928 season here some time ago and are out to repeat their victory tonight. A loss to Evans City will mean that Butler High is undisputed champions of Section III.
 Coach Bridenbaugh will more than likely use the same lineup that faced Ellwood City High here last Tuesday night, with Reider, Kulich, Alexander, Ostrosky and Sillman starting the game. There is a possibility that Clark McClelland may break into the regular lineup tonight, due to his fine showing in the Ellwood City game.

McLarnin Defeats Terris In First

Drops New York Fighter In One Minute, 47 Seconds

(Special Editor International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The lightweight division, almost canonized by the deed of Gans, McAuliffe, Nelson, Lavigne, Welsh, Griffo and other immortals, had its modern idol today: the first since Benny Leonard passed into the limbo of pugilism "forgotten." He is a Lochinvar from out of the West, indeed—a young Knight of the Mailed Fist, with the face of a cherub and the punch of a pole-axe—Jimmy McLarnin by name, and Poisonous by nature.
 McLarnin qualified beyond further preamble for a title match with Lightweight Champion Sammy Mandell by knocking Sid Terris first last night with a punch so fast as to be quicker than Terris' reaction. Sidney, hit on the chin with a left and, a right in the first two minutes of play, simply stood transfixed for a dramatic second or two and then collapsed on his face to be counted out. That right hand, the greatest thing this writer has ever seen, was so fast, that it deflected the message of the knockout to Terris' brain by at least a full second.
 It was all over in 1 minute and 47 seconds but a sell-out crowd of some 19,000 had seen what it wanted to see, the making of an overnight sensation who will pack them in and turn them away from now on until further notice. He is the new one-shot man, the latest killer and they devotedly love that kind.
Mandell Pleased
 Rockford, Ill., Feb. 25.—Sammy Mandell, Lightweight Champion of the World, today declared himself "surprised but well pleased" over the result of the Jimmy McLarnin-Sid Terris fight in New York last night. "I am glad the verdict was so decisive," added Sammy. "That will pack 'em in at our championship match in Chicago this June. McLarnin surely must be good to dispose of a man like Terris in such summary fashion."
 The Lightweight Champion is under contract to Promoter Jim Mulien of Chicago to meet McLarnin in a ten-round title event here in June.

AMONG THE FAMOUS CATCHERS BY FEG MURRAY

Copyright, 1928, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service

Just because it's two months after Christmas dinner is no excuse to draw up a lot of famous catchers, unless, perhaps, the fact that they were all stars at the "plate" is taken into consideration. So, in view of a better reason, let us remember that young Mr. Hogan, who is worth exactly half of Mr. Hornsby (on the market at least) will soon be trying to make his new boss look like a smart trader because of his (Hogan's) catching at Augusta, and that he may, in time, develop into a second Kling, a second Bresnahan, or a second Schalk.

John McGraw, in his book, "My Thirty Years in Baseball," chooses Buck Ewing, star catcher of the New York Giants 30 years ago, and Roger Bresnahan on his all-time all-American team. Ewing he calls a Ty Cobb behind the bat, and praises him as a fine base-runner, thrower, team-leader and batter. Bresnahan, now McGraw's right-hand man, was developed into a catcher from a pitcher—he could play any position on the diamond well, and is the only major league catcher that ever acted as lead-off man in the batting order.

On his all-time American league team, McGraw places Ray Schalk and Lou Criger. Schalk was small, but brainy, a hard and conscientious worker, an accurate thrower and fast on the bases. Criger was one of the classic catchers of the old school, always dependable, and a credit to the game. He had a marvelously accurate throw to second, and caught the pitching of such old-timers as Cy Young and Bill Dineen.

Johnny Kling of the Cubs is called by many an even greater backstop than Bresnahan. He had everything a great catcher needs—brains, brawn, and a way with young green pitchers. He was a poisonous hitter in a pinch, and did much to help make the Cubs into the great machine they were from 1906 to 1910.

Jimmy Archer, like Criger, was blessed with a 22 target rifle arm. His snap throw delivered while in a squatting position often caught runners napping at second. Ira Thomas did not rate with the greatest catchers of all time in batting, fielding or throwing, but when it came to developing pitchers he had few superiors.

As for Nig Clarke, Billy Sullivan, George Gibson, Hank Gowdy, and the other great backstops—another day. Their fame will last for centuries.

Feg Murray Says—
"Ten pins found after football game at New Haven."—News item.
That seems to answer the question, "When does the Yale Bowl?"

League pennant, the Pittsburgh Pirates probably will.

Such was the observation of Joe McCarthy, Cubs' boss after a thoughtful gaze into the crystal waters of Catalina Bay.

Meanwhile, the business of getting the Bruins in shape to cop the flag themselves, goes merrily on. Joe Kelly, who wrenched his leg Thursday, was back in uniform, but he did very little work. The Cubs' first practice game is scheduled for tomorrow.

ALDRIDGE IS TARDY
Hot Springs, Ark., Feb. 25.—Pitcher Vic Aldridge, obtained by the New York Giants from Pittsburgh, is still keeping Manager John McGraw in the anxious seat. Requested by McGraw to report for work here, Aldridge wired last night that he had sent a letter explaining his tardiness.

Aldridge is not missing much work, as rain and cold weather are keeping the other New York battery men idle.

Friday council was told that automobiles over which drivers lose control are crashing into an East street house. The property-owner asked that East street be made a one-way traffic route. Council has practically decided to erect a half dozen posts and string a heavy cable through the posts at the dangerous turn on the steep hill. A member of council said that a sign, "Dangerous hill, go in second" should be erected. The subject has been before city officials for months.

What has become of Joe White, the boy with the smokestack neck? Is he at Meadville? The reason for the foregoing questions is that an account has come to our desk of a recent fight there in which someone by the name of White won by a knockout. If this is our Joe why not bring him back to New Castle? Joe only had one fight here and while he lost to Elmo The Mighty, the fans would probably like to see the big boy go again. Perhaps Elmo would take him on.

With a safe lead in the fourth quarter Coach Norton substituted an entirely new team. A Mahoning rally in the closing moments of the game was nipped in the bud.

Ruha, Lascola and Fabian were the mainstays for the Franklin team, with Grassell, Richael and Tomallo the best for the losers.

It was a booster day game for Ben Franklin High and over 300 students were present at the game. But one league game remains on the Franklin schedule and that is next Friday with the North Street aggregation.

Powered by a Brute of an Engine All-American in Design

What a power plant! What a clean, uncluttered example of advanced engineering design! That's what you think when you lift the hood of the All-American Six. That's why this brilliant car is amazing everyone who takes the wheel.

A brute of an engine, indeed. With a 79-pound crankshaft . . . crankcase and cylinder block of "bridge-truss" design . . . generously large connecting rods and other vital parts. With many other notable advancements . . . G-M-R cylinder head . . . fuel pump . . . full pressure oiling of moving parts.

And the same throughout the chassis. Quality construction everywhere. Deep, rigid frame. Big, self-adjusting clutch. Smooth-shifting transmission. Velvet-action four-wheel brakes.

Small wonder it's famous for conquering America's stiffest mountain grades. Small wonder it has never found the road too rough or the pace too trying.

Yet for all its wealth of power, it's silent and satin-smooth. And for speed and snap and handling ease . . . just drive it yourself and see!

On More About Physiognomy

MORE LOCAL CELEBRITIES.

Prof. Ray Hawk, physiognomist, room 8, New Palace hotel, is closing his last an' most successful week. Many have called t' have their heads looked over an' felt, all seemin' anxious t' git started in th' right avenues t' success before it's too late.

As a result ther's considerable shiftn' about in our professional an' commercial life. Joe Pine has resigned as president o' th' Skunk Ridge Bank an' 'll take advantage o' th' fullness o' his ears an' become a rear admiral. Art Lark stopped auto paintin' over night t' become an expert advertisin' man. Pictures an' findin's o' class No. 2, accompany this article, an' may be read with profit.

No. 1. Lisle Spar, saxophone, Purdue, '23. Note th' long stretch from th' point o' th' chin t' th' ear an' across up t' th' eye denotin' lack o' rhythm an' harmony, an' an almost ravenous aptness for celery raisin', or as th' guidin' genius o' some gigantic colonization project. Th' caved in condition about th' mouth indicates a fondness for solitary an' a pronounced aversion fer details. Mr. Spar is still a young man an' 'll doubtless make a change if he kin sell his cow.

No. 2. Mrs. Leghorn Tharp. Note th' square, well set head, an' fierce, commandin' jaws, liberal eyebrows, an' eagle nose. This subject is a born leader in any atmosphere or company she finds herself in. She has all th' bumps of an organizer an' leader, but she didn't know it when she married th' driver of a dressed poultry delivery wagon. T' day she's held back by a family o' eight an' a furnace, all because she didn't git her head examined before she plunged headlong int' marriage.

No. 3. Tell Binkley, tornado insurance agent. Th' average layman lookin' at this picture would pronounce th' subject a man o' big affairs, a forceful man, a steel trust director, an' a man o' vision. Th' keen physiogn-mist is not so easily taken in, however. Note th' full elevated eyebrows, th' bulbous nose, lodge jewelry, an' close reefer wire mustache, th' smug expression o' th' eyes, an' note how th' ears stick close t' th' skull, all o' which are unmistakable indications of a four flusher an' a hunter after money widows.

No. 4. Ike Lark, bootlegger. Note th' unusually healthy mustache on this subject, th' small twinklin' eyes, fine nose, an' standard forehead. Note that th' ears have no lobes. Ther's none o' th' tell tale marks o' th' criminal, or evil doer, about this subject. He'd pass anywhere as a small merchant, or an authority on bees, or a lover o' flowers. If he had had his head examined in early manhood he wouldn't have heard o' him as a ventriloquist. Or he could have been an internationally famous social worker. Nothin' could have stopped him in uplift work, as nothin' seems t' stop him now.

ing of Spring grains and planting of semi-hardy plants should be accomplished as early as possible. A storm wave of mild intensity will be expected to cross continent during week centering on 29, but will be of little importance excepting the trend to higher temperatures that will accompany and follow.

March Weather Features

The old adage regarding March, that weather features of first and last days of month will be the opposite of each other, is not expected to be true of March 1928. The most pleasant and best cropweather of month will be expected during first and last weeks of month; the most disagreeable as well as the least favorable cropweather period of month will be expected during 12 to 20. Two periods of severe storms will be expected to center on 16 and 20; two storm periods of mild intensity centering on 4 and 25; a period of moderate storms centering on 11. Spring officially arrives at 20 hours and 45 minutes, Greenwich civil time, March 20. From 12 to 23 will be expected to average below normal and balance of month above normal temperatures; temperatures of month will be expected to average a little below normal for the continent as a whole; greatest extremes below normal temperatures will be expected in northeast part of continent, near, south and east of Great Lakes. Storms near 16 and 20 will be of the equinoctial type, but will not be dangerous in North America; principal features of these storm periods will be cold waves following storm centers. Extremes of month will be great, but changes not so frequent as during preceding months; warm and cool periods will be of longer duration. Precipitation will be about normal for the continent for the month; most precipitation will be expected in eastern half of continent; precipitation on Pacific slope will be above normal; most precipitation will occur during period 16 to 22; precipitation will increase in central and eastern cotton belt this month, decrease in western Great Central valleys and northwest. Month will average less favorable than usual in localities where planting season has arrived, due to bad distribution of moisture and to cool period. During the month, evaporation points are expected to gradually change to due south for North America.

Foster's Weather Prognostication

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Last days of February are expected to be a flareback into winter conditions; following the storm wave of moderate intensity that was expected to cross continent during week centering on 23, a general cold wave will be expected to cover most of North America, centering on 28 and to reach farther south than is usual for this time of year. After this drop of temperatures has passed, it will be advisable that southern planting that is usual at this period be given all possible attention, advancing all work a little ahead of the normal season where possible; it will not be advisable to do southern planting before the local normal time this Spring, but it will be advisable to advance all work as fast as possible after the normal planting season has arrived in middle and southern latitudes. Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

The News does not keep oysters. Neither does it sell them, for that matter. While the world may be a newspaper man's oyster, yet the succulent delicacy that comes in shells is not sold here.

The explanation is for this reason. Picture The News composing room of a dark night. The telephone out, tripping over buggies, job cases and linotype machines. After barking a yard or so of cuticle off his shin, he reaches the telephone and the following conversation ensues:

"Hello."
"Sweet voice from the other end. What about my oysters?"
"Well, what about them?"
"Have you forgotten to send down those oysters I ordered for dinner?"
"No ma'am, we never got your order."

"Never got it, why I telephoned it two hours ago."
"Sorry, lady, but this is the New Castle News, and we have no oysters tonight. Now we often get a select line of crabs, occasionally a reporter proves to be a sucker, but oysters—"

But the telephone at the other end of the line had clicked with an indignant cluck.

Did a little roaming up around the Elks home last night, where the Bell Telephone lads were demonstrating how first aid should be done. What they don't know about splints and bandages and resuscitation is not yet written, and the contest furnished some fast competition. For Rochester it was something in the nature of a field day, for they took first, second and third, and then nearly ruined the chandeliers with their cheering. Honors in eating went to Ralph Davis, who tackled a sandwich with all the gusto of Alec Fox tackling an opposing lineman.

May trek up to New Wilmington tonight to see that Westminster-Waynesburg tussle. So far the blue and white hasn't lost a decision in the conference, but has lost a close one to Grove City.

"Individual Initiative Is Responsible For America's Growth"

says Andrew W. Mellon
Secretary of the U. S. Treasury

"It is private initiative which is chiefly responsible for America's rapid growth in wealth. Whether we shall continue to grow and expand depends upon whether we pursue an intelligent and constructive or a hostile and destructive policy toward those forces which have brought about our present development."

Fifty years ago there was no electric light and power in America. Modern household conveniences, modern labor-saving and safety devices were then unknown. Labor worked from twelve to sixteen hours at wages averaging less than one dollar a day.

Large scale production at low cost and the high earning capacity of workers are the basic factors in America's present high standard of living. But only through the electrification of industry have these factors become so effective. Without electric light and automatically controlled motor power and electric heat the industrial miracles of today would be impossible.

Back of the electrification of American industry is the impulse which has made all America great. Individual initiative left free to work and plan, and reap a just reward for its enterprise, has invented, perfected and produced our electric tools of home and industry.

There has never been any granting of special privilege, no exploitation in the natural growth of the electric light and power companies. Encouraged in providing a public utility which has played a vital role in the progress of American prosperity, individual initiative alone has been and must always be the moving force back of our electrical development.
